

STABLE VIEW SPOTLIGHT: SISSY SUGARMAN

Sissy Sugarman and Carmani

Sissy Sugarman is a boarder at Nilson Moreira Da Silva's East Barn at Stable View. She just finished her junior year at Sewanee University of the South where she is majoring in Biology and rides on the Eventing Team. She recently competed at the Intercollegiate Eventing Championships at Tryon where her scramble team finished sixth.

While in Aiken this Summer, Sugarman has been interning at Performance Equine Vets. She recently moved up to Intermediate with her horse, Carmani, at Stable View's Summer Horse Trial. It was a successful move-up event. When asked about her time boarding at Stable View Sugarman says, "Being at Stable View this summer brought everything together for our move-up boot camp. Everything about Stable View is top notch and having it all at my fingertips this summer was instrumental in supporting our successful move-up to Intermediate. Riding on the world-class Boyd Martin Cross Country course that has all the questions we might encounter at an event to being able to decide morning of to jump a round in the Summer Classic taking place in my backyard . . . there are countless opportunities to gain experience in all three phases without ever hitching up the trailer. Barry and Cyndy do a great job keeping the boutique/VIP feel that makes Stable View unique even as it continues to expand its horizons. I'm definitely looking forward to coming back for more fun in the future!"

Sugarman will be heading to the American Eventing Championships at the end of August. Come the first weekend of May you will be sure to see her back at Stable View, decked out in her college colors, for the Intercollegiate Eventing Championship.
