

VISITOR SPOTLIGHT: USEA EMERGING ATHLETE PROGRAM U21

Stable View was host to the USEA Emerging Athlete Under 21 East II Regional Clinic July 25th and 26th. With the help of trainer, Emily Beshear and Young Rider Coordinator, Shelley Ryan, twelve young riders got to polish their skills in both dressage and show jumping.

Beshear kindly shared her thoughts on the clinic and Stable View. She shared, "I'm one of the regional clinicians for the EA U21 program and my purpose is to help these riders see different options as far as going forward in their training and becoming professionals in the sport and reaching the highest levels. (I want to) give them different tools and opportunities to go forward with that." She was asked to share what she hopes riders will take away from this clinic. Her response was, "What I hope they'll take away is that they have a lot of abilities and that they realize more and more what they have to offer the horses. Sort of what their talents and techniques are that maybe they haven't discovered before. So we kind of uncover new ways of doing things and give them a little bit of confidence that they've got a lot of ability to do what they want to do."

These riders spent the duration of the two days at Stable View. Their lessons were in the hunter and covered arenas, their horses were stabled in the main barn, and their lectures took place in the pavilion. Beshear shared, "Stable View is always wonderful. I always love coming to Stable View. It's such a great facility. We couldn't think of a better facility to do this clinic at. Everything is top notch and you guys are all so wonderful and helping to keep everything rolling and going smoothly."

Stable View noted the professionalism of these riders and wishes them the best of luck in their future endeavors.
