

WELCOMING THE WINTER BOARDERS:

With the start of the new year comes the Aiken winter boarders. There are several professionals including eventers and dressage riders who make Stable View their home during the winter months. Coming to Aiken for the winter gives riders based up north the opportunity to continue their training as well as be in close proximity to many shows. Those based at Stable View never even have to leave the property to show at schooling and recognized eventing, hunter/jumper, and dressage shows. Stable View looks forward to welcoming all of the Aiken winter boarders the next few months.
