

STABLE VIEW PARTNERSHIPS - EQUINE SCIENCE SOLUTIONS

Equine Science Solutions originally opened in 2000 and provided products to multiple owners and trainers to research and confirm the efficacy of each formula. Dree Ward, founder of the company, shared some brand history. She said, "In 2014 we started Equine Science Solutions with a full line of improved, natural, FEI-compliant, formulas that addressed the problems, the symptoms, and the nutritional maintenance needed to keep the competitive horse healthy." The inspiration for starting the company came from a conversation with a formulator who was working on research regarding the discovery of Nitric Oxide. After more research was conducted, they found that Nitric Oxide was in all Mammals and had benefits for humans, horses, dogs, and zoo animals. She said, "I started the company to market formulas for horses; to help trigger the production of Nitric Oxide, to create high-performance health."

Dree has had a love for horses from a young age. She shared, "My parents divorced when I was in 6th grade, so I got a "Divorce Horse" (of course). I think they thought it would make the changes easier. Little did they know their single life would turn into taxi driver to the barn, groom, tack cleaner...your basic 4-H show mom & dad." This sparked her love for horses.

After she graduated Linda Tellington Jones called and asked her to be her assistant. Dree traveled the US and Europe with her for three years. She said, "Every weekend we were in a different barn working with horses...nasty horses, horses in pain, horses that were misunderstood, showing their owners and everyone in the stands how to find and eliminate pain and behavior problems without the use of pain, fear, or force. I saw AMAZING transformations in horses in only 2 days. Even as I became proficient in every aspect of her TTEAM work, I was still amazed that it worked so well, every time, on every horse, dog, bird, cat, person, or zoo animal. Acknowledging that each animal has a brain and then working to develop it further, was one of the most enriching experiences of my life."

Dree shared, "I had seen other companies whose products produced Nitric Oxide, but this formulator had products that could trigger the body to produce Nitric Oxide for 4-6 hours per dose! The others could only produce it for about 15 minutes which is NOT long enough to allow the body to heal itself. I then understood why these products got such great results! Our nutraceutical formulas have replaced some of the pharmaceuticals and are especially effective for Ulcers, Laminitis, Cushings, Mares with strong cycles, and for Muscle development. As a result, these safe and effective, full-spectrum natural supplements are being used by track and show veterinarians and trainers nationwide and are quickly becoming the mainstay of the most successful stables. I work with traditional and alternative Vets around the country; with horses that many would put down... they are now healthy and working hard. We also worked with horses that were fit, healthy and at the top of their game, and were able to take them up to the next competitive level. We are able to formulate products that help horses survive or thrive and THAT is exciting!

Regarding the future, she shared, "My plans for the future are to continue educating owners and helping as many horses as I can to create and maintain optimum health." Dree is here to help you and your horse.
