Sewanee: The University of the South had a small but mighty presence at Champs. Their team comradery was picked up by the spirit contest judges and they just won third in the 2024 Intercollegiate Spirit Contest. The team was comprised of Georgia Ranson, Sissy Sugarman, and Caroline Kirtley. The team assisted with extra jobs around the show all weekend and always seemed to be at the ring or finish line to cheer their teammates on. Their golf cart was outfitted with tigers and their school color, purple. Their stalls were held to the same standard and they even had snacks for those who stopped to visit.

Along with many of the intercollegiate riders, the girls were preparing for finals the week following champs. With this stress they were still able to hold their own though the weekend. The small team finished eleventh out of thirty-nine teams and got third in the spirit contest out of fifteen schools.
