STABLE VIEW PARTNERSHIPS - SEMINOLE WELLNESS

Seminole Wellness is one of Stable View's newest sponsors. Jamie Hodges, an area Sales Manager and Equine Nutrition Consultant with a PAS in equine, took some time to share some fun facts about Seminole. I cover Columbia, SC down to Macon GA, TN and out to Savannah, GA. I visit individual farms, feed stores and Show grounds and help horse owners or barn owners tailor diets for their horses individual needs along with work with them to find the most economical solutions. She shared, "Horses are our passion, and our goal at Seminole Feed® is to provide you with the "World's Best Equine Feed." Horse Nutrition is our top priority, so it's no wonder horse managers trust Seminole as their No. 1 choice to fuel Olympic medalists, national champion collegiate equestrian teams, and world champions in every event."

The company was founded in 1934 and is family-owned. As their website states, "Seminole Feed® is one of the few companies today that manufactures fixed-formula horse feeds. This diligent control over the manufacturing process, combined with Seminole's finest-quality ingredients and superior formulas, ensures that customers are rewarded with the highest quality, most carefully formulated equine nutrition products available. Our feeds are milled in the all-natural, non-medicated Seminole Feed® mill in downtown Ocala, right in the middle of the Horse Capital of the World."

Seminole sells all over the Southeast and is continuing to expand. They have a wide range of premium horse feeds as well as forage products. Jamie shared, "We are very excited for this new opportunity with Stable View and look forward to helping horses and humans alike however we can with their nutritional needs!"
